POLICE CHIEF SAYS NEGRO IS 'BAREFOOT'

ure of a man on the outside. He was fumbling at the lock. The whistling kept up, evidently intended to divert the suspicions of any passerby who should see him.

Hastening back upstairs, Miss Thaxter aroused her mother, told her to telephone for the police, and then returned downstairs, although the negro might any moment break open the door.

But before he succeeded in gaining entrance passersby from the breaking-up of a party in a nearby home frightened him away.

"Still he kept up his whistling as he stomped down the back stairs," said Miss Thaxter today. "He was the nervous person I ever saw."

Miss Thaxter's father is F. W. Thaxter, well-known Berkeley contractor.

How to Make a Gray Hair Remedy

Mrs. Mackie, the well-known New York actress, now a grandmother, and whose hair is still dark, recently made the following statement: "Gray streaked or faded hair can be immediately turned black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following simple remedy that you can make at home: Merely get a box of Orle's powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extra to buy. Dissolve it in 4 ozs. of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Directions for mixing and use come in each box. One box will last you for months.

"It is safe, it does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look many years younger."—Advertisement.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

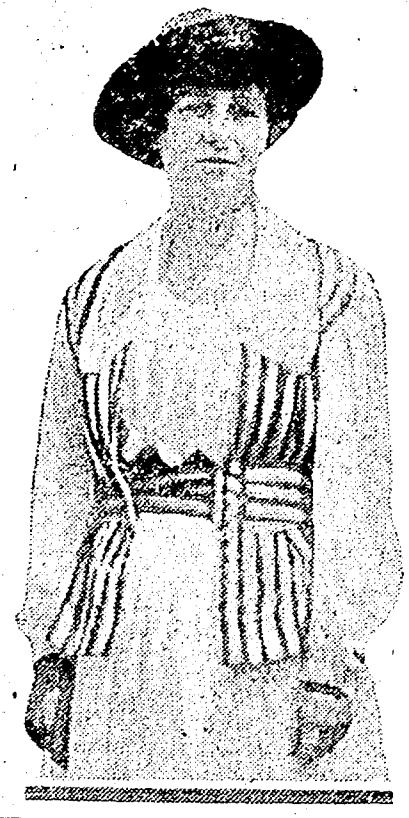

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the articles did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain, system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overloading kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing Postcard, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Oakland Daily Tribune. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

145 'FLU' CASES; 10 DEATHS IN S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—One hundred and forty-five new cases of influenza in the past twelve hours, and ten deaths up to noon today is the figure given out by the health department here.

The police continued arrests of violators of the flu mask law today, 135 persons being placed under arrest. Yesterday's arrests totaled 136. Every case today saw a fine of $5 imposed, the proceeds of these fines to go toward paying the expenses of transportation of the victims, as was suggested by the police judges by Father P. L. Ryan. The need of auto transportation for doctors and nurses to and from cases had been grave one for several days, and the police judges, after a conference, agreed to co-operate through the plan of turning over fines for this purpose.

The flu mask ordinance all but upset the daily program of the Union Iron Works today.

Police of the Potrero station, watching near the iron works gate, nabbed 79 violators within a short time. Among these were foremen and expert mechanics. Most of these were soon released on bail.

Potrero station police said that for two days they have been issuing warrants against persons responsible for the act of Dr. Hippolito Irigoyen, the president of the republic.

Dr. Irigoyen was elected president of the Argentine Republic in June, 1916, as the candidate of the radical party. Since assuming the presidency Irigoyen has had to reform his cabinet several times. His attitude during the war caused much political dissension in Argentina.

Navy Demobilizing Abroad Under Way

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, American assistant secretary of the navy, has arrived in London. He will spend two weeks here in authorizing final plans for the demobilization of various naval stations established in the European countries, the sale of the material and the settlement of claims.

GIRLS BRUSH DEATH IN NEW AUTOMOBILE

BERKELEY, Jan. 21.—A spin in a new automobile owned by Miss Annette Girard, attractive food at the University of California, last night nearly cost the lives of the fair driver and two of her sorority sisters when the machine was struck by a Southern Pacific train at Durant and Shattuck avenues.

With Miss Girard in the automobile at the time were Miss Florence Banks and Miss Maude Hudson, sister members of the Norrena club, a college sorority. As a result of the accident Miss Hudson is at Roosevelt hospital with severe lacerations and bruises, while Miss Girard and Miss Banks are suffering from shock and minor injuries.

According to Miss Girard, a miscalculation of distance caused her to drive the machine directly in front of an approaching Southern Pacific electric. "I saw the train, but thought I had plenty of room," she says. Struck by the heavy car the light automobile was hurled across the street, spinning completely around and narrowly dodging a street car and telegraph pole in its mad dash. The machine, a limousine, was almost completely wrecked.

Miss Girard is a senior student at the university, registered from San Luis Obispo while Miss Banks is also a member of the senior class coming from Hermosa Beach. Miss Banks is a first year student. All three girls reside at the Norrena clubhouse, 2523 Virginia street.

Fred Le Ballister, recently appointed city auditor, and Mayor John L. Dwyer tangled a bit at the city council meeting this morning over who had or had not, and who was or was not doing "peanut politics."

The trouble came following the reading of a letter from Le Ballister, who declared that the ordinance providing for the purchase of uniforms, shoes, etc., for the firemen was "manifestly a subterfuge, and an attempt to evade the provisions of the city charter which have fixed the salaries of the firemen and which provisions cannot be changed by ordinance."

The letter concluded that he would not audit any bills presented for firemen's equipment.

Purchasing Agent J. H. Brill said that an order had already been placed with a shoe company in San Francisco for 221 pairs of shoes, ranging in sizes from 6 to 13, for the firemen, and that the leather had already been cut and that the company was in a position to lose if the order was held up.

Brill said that the company did not want to sue the city, but that it looked to it for its money.

Brill thought that Le Ballister's action was very unfortunate, because "it will jeopardize the standing and credit of Oakland with large firms."

Le Ballister immediately took issue with this statement declaring that the city's standing would not be jeopardized.

"PEANUT POLITICS."

"It looks to me as if the firemen had been used for peanut politics," he declared.

"That's enough of that," interjected the mayor. "We'll have none of that kind of talk here. If there's any peanut politics, it's right here right now, and the mayor planned at the auditor."

"Anyway," replied Le Ballister, "there'll be no illegal paying by me of a $25,000 bill."

"You're young in the business," commented the Mayor. "You'll have to learn."

Le Ballister admitted that he was young in the business and added that he was willing to learn.

On motion of Commissioner Edwards, Le Ballister's letter of warning will be sent to bidders on firemen's equipment.

GRAFTER GUILTY; GIVEN ONE YEAR

Presley A. McFarland, one of the group of Angel Island immigration officials involved in the alleged Chinese smuggling conspiracy, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge M. T. Dooling in San Francisco today to conspiring, bringing about illegal landing of Chinese, violating the Chinese exclusion law and altering and removing government records from Angel Island.

He was sentenced to a year in the San Francisco county jail, but was admitted to $2500 bail and judgment was suspended until March 6, pending the outcome of a plea being made to President Wilson by the Department of Justice for executive clemency.

Miss Annette Adams, assistant United States district attorney, made a plea in court for clemency for McFarland on the ground that he had been of aid to the government in the case and also that he had a wife and two children.

Judge Dooling scored McFarland and his fellow conspirators, saying the system they had evolved was vicious and kept out Chinese entitled to land in this country at the same time that it admitted others not entitled to do so.

ADMINISTRATION OF SOLDIER'S ESTATE ASKED

Eugene E. Stephenson, of Berkeley, applied today to Judge Lin S. Church for letters of administration in the estate of his son, Wayne H. Stephenson, killed in Alameda-Lorraine on September 13, 1918. It is the first instance in which administration papers have been asked for in this county in the estate of a soldier actually killed in action.

Besides the father the other heir in the soldier's mother. The estate is valued at less than $10,000. Part of it is salary deposited by the soldier with Morgan, Harjes & Co., Park street.

The deceased enlisted two days after the declaration of war by the United States, joining the aviation corps.

AERIAL GUNNER KILLS WHALE DURING FLIGHT

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 21.—Lieutenant James McCullough, of the Navy aviation field is declared to be the gunner who slew the whale that washed ashore at Imperial Beach last week. According to reports from the field the whale rose two miles off shore and spouted defiance at Lieutenant McCullough, who was practicing aerial gunnery. The aviator accepted the challenge by opening fire on the leviathan with a machine gun as he flew over it. The whale's back was riddled by bullets, the lieutenant's fellow aviators say. As a result of his feat whale hunting promises to become a popular sport among flyers stationed along the coast here.

Why Be Fat?

The answer of most fat people is that constant dieting is hard, continual exercise is tiresome, and it might be better to let the weight down. That was the old-fashioned idea. Today in Marmola Prescription Tablets all these difficulties are overcome. Just a single harmless little tablet after each meal and at bedtime causes fat to vanish. This modern method is so entirely harmless, entails no dieting or exercise, and has the added advantage of cheapness. A large case of safe Marmola Prescription Tablets, 12 tablets, is sold by drug stores for 75c.

WHY SOCIETY WOMEN WASH THEIR OWN HAIR

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift, but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made mixture. You can use this at a cost of about 3 cents a shampoo by getting some camellia oil from your drug- gist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair. Instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations, dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you.—Advertisement.

ARMOUR SAYS FIRM IS NOT IN PACKERS' POOL

By RAYMOND CLAPPEH, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Denying charges of conspiracy with other packers, J. Ogden Armour replied to the recent fire of the federal trade commission today. Testifying before the House interstate commerce committee, he built up a defense of his concern's business conduct. Armour finished with this denial: "I say to you positively that we have not for many years been and are not now in any pool, combination or arrangement of any kind, either directly or indirectly, or openly or secretly or under cover. All such charges are utterly unfair and untrue."

Throughout Armour made the federal trade commission his target, attacking its methods during recent investigation directed by Francis J. Heney.

This was Armour's first appearance before a government body. His company has not previously been given a chance to answer accusations, he said.

URGES CONGRESS AGAINST GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

"In the investigation made by the federal trade commission, and which has resulted in the pending bill, it has been admitted by Chairman Colver that we were afforded no opportunity to produce witnesses. To introduce testimony or to explain or answer any of the documents introduced at the hearing," Armour asserted.

"To pass pending bills providing government licensing of packing houses, and government ownership or operation of stockyards, refrigerator cars, branch houses and other adjuncts to the packing business."

"If a monkey wrench is thrown into the gears of this business, its effect will not be confined to the meat packing industry," Armour went on. "Theories on which pending legislation is based are not constructive, they are not progressive. They are reactionary."

Such laws probably would be unconstitutional, Armour's legal advisers believe.

Touching briefly on high prices, the witness said live hogs had increased in price 245 per cent in four years. Labor and other costs have also gone up, he pointed out.

Charges of excessive profits, however, were denied. In 1918 Armour's profits averaged 10 per cent, he said, as compared with 3.7 in 1917.

Recalling that on November 1, 1917, the food administration limited packers' profits to 9 per cent on the capital invested in meat producing lines, Armour said that only about one-half of this allowance was actually earned.

"The federal trade commission," he continued, "has failed completely to justify its charges of unduly large profits."

"During the last eighteen years, including the war period, the earnings of Armour & Co., on the actual cost of the business averaged 8.9 per cent on everything—including all our by-products and all our associated lines."

"We pay the bills," Armour said, explaining the policy of pushing by-products. The same sales organization can be kept busy in off-season periods. Soap, violin strings, soft drinks and perfume were classed as legitimate side lines for packers.

CARS TO REFRIGERATOR CARS

Referring to the pending bill, which would take refrigerator cars out of packers' hands, Armour insisted he had lost money on refrigerator cars for the last six years, but that they were essential. They are subject to the interstate commerce commission, he said, adding that he would see to it that they were to the public by government ownership of them.

Armour considers government ownership of stockyards immaterial as long as efficient service is rendered, defending present packer control.

"As a packer I am interested in seeing the yards handled in the most efficient way possible and it is absolutely immaterial to me who owns them."

"Ownership by the government implies red tape and restrictions which cannot help, but add to the costs of the service. I am entirely ready and willing at once to release my holdings on being allowed just compensation."

The 400 per cent stock dividend was merely a bookkeeping transaction, perfectly honest and legal in every respect," according to Armour. It merely gave each stockholder his share of stock owned formerly by him, the value of which was equal to the five which replaced it."

BEACH CHOSEN MARE ISLAND COMMANDANT

In accord with his own request Captain Harry George, commandant of the Mare Island Navy Yard, will be relieved from active duty and be restored to his pre-war rating on the retired officers' list. Orders to that effect were received today at the big San Francisco bay naval station. Testifying before the House interstate commerce committee, he built up a defense of his concern's business conduct. Armour finished with this denial: "I say to you positively that we have not for many years been and are not now in any pool, combination or arrangement of any kind, either directly or indirectly, or openly or secretly or under cover. All such charges are utterly unfair and untrue."

The latter was recalled to active duty and placed in charge of the Mare Island navy yard shortly after the United States declared war against Germany. Prior to that time he had been on the retired list since 1909. It is understood that Captain George will engage in business in the east immediately following his discharge from the service of his country.

RABID COYOTES ATTACK STOCK AND PEOPLE

MINDEN, Nev., Jan. 21.—Rabid coyotes have appeared in the vicinity of Genoa, Gardnerville and Minden, and have attacked several people besides biting a number of valuable cattle. The federal government has been asked to help in the extermination of the beasts. Two young sons of Fritz Schatz were attacked by a coyote while playing in a haystack near Genoa. The eldest boy obtained a rifle and killed the animal as it was chasing the younger child. Several cattlemen report being attacked near Minden by coyotes. Sixteen head of cattle have died of rabies near Minden.

Kilauea Lava Flows Into Older Crater

HONOLULU, T. H., Jan. 21.—Lava in the central fire pit of Kilauea, the largest active volcano known, is overflowing into the old crater, submerging several acres. Kilauea, one of the spectacles of Hawaii, has shown much activity during the past year. In January, 1918, the lava rose suddenly and reached the highest level in recent times. November 7, 1918, the central fire pit overflowed as it now is doing.

JIMMY SMITH COMES HOME.

Home Town paid no more attention to Jimmy Smith when he was a youngster in school than to any other ordinary boy, for it did not realize that he was destined to greatness. He was just another of that flock of freckled, red-haired imps that Bill Smith was raising on his old ramshackle place just out of town on the New Holland pike where his ten acres gave them plenty of room in which to grow alongside his dairy herd.

Jack McCaskey, who later became Mayor of Home Town, was principal of the high school, and he had introduced many innovations in teaching. Some of them have not been equaled by the schools of the big cities even to this day. For one thing, Jack got the school board to engage an able old musician who knew his way around on any sort of instrument as teacher to high school pupils. Anybody who wanted to play anything need only buy the instrument and "Thorby" would teach him. The high school orchestra was the best in that part of the state.

Well, Jimmy Smith kept his mind on going to high school and learning to play the cornet, and he did it. He used to make jokes about cornet players, but not for long. Jimmy became a wizard at it. He could pump music so mellow and honey sweet from that second-hand battered old silver cornet that the angels up in heaven must have wanted to give up their harps for cornets, as they listened.

GROWS AMBITIOUS.

And all the time that he was working around on the farm after school hours and playing out in the woodlot on that cornet like a sort of modern Pat, Jimmy was longing for wider fields. Bill Smith never ceased that his changeling son had the wanderlust and was dreaming of over the hill. As for Mrs. Smith, from whom Jimmy had inherited his temperance, she had long since succumbed to work and child-bearing and lay out in the cemetery awaiting the call of a trumpet louder than any Jimmy Smith could sound.

So there was nobody to watch Jimmy, and one day he and his old cornet disappeared. It is doubtful if Bill Smith even noticed that Jimmy's departure was coincident with the one night appearance of the famous opera house of Home Town. For even Jimmy's misdeeds were beyond the grubby care of Bill. But not long afterwards came a note to Bill saying Jimmy had gotten out of the country, awaiting the call of a trumpet louder than any Jimmy Smith could sound.

FAME FOR HOME TOWN.

It wasn't long before Home Town began to realize dimly that Jimmy's cornet was sounding its fame abroad as nothing else ever had done. He was a phenomenal player, and even Dockstader made him a soloist mighty quickly. Interlocutor after interlocutor was proudly told that Jimmy had learned to play within the tutelage of old "Thorby" in Home Town High School. The name of Home Town spread abroad, and Jimmy's fame, who had long since passed the stage where he could be teased, only smiled in his beard when he read his praises sung by that enthusiastic young man Jimmy Smith.

So it went for several years and Home Town heard now and then of the increasing fame of its son. From Dockstader's Minstrels he went with Souza as soloist, then to the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and finally he became a headline on the biggest vaudeville circuit in the country. He had reached the peak, he had climbed beyond it, and now he knew what was on the other

THE BOOK OF FATE

By Juanita Hamel

WHILE she reads—pretending not to hear his question—yet halted at one page she hesitates to turn, he calmly watches her—but, oh, how anxious are his eyes, and how strangely beats his heart! Yet small, indeed, is the need, for great is the power of the magic personality who smiles as he waits for her to turn that page. It matters not what side of the hill. Fame and fortune were there for him.

And then one day he came home. Bill Smith grinned unabashed by Jimmy's swell clothes when the youngster—for he was still not much more than a boy—jumped out of a grand touring car at the crazy old gate. As for Jimmy's brothers, they hit him so mightily on the back that his teeth clicked like a Spanish dancer's castanets. After a little visit with the home folk Jimmy hopped into his car again and swung away towards town. He said he'd be back shortly, that he didn't have much time to visit, and would have to leave that night. But anyhow, he'd be sure to be back.

And back he was after several hours, arriving just at dusk after the milking had been completed. Old Bill was sitting on the split rail fence across the turnpike from his gate as Jimmy came rolling along. He got down rather stiffly and walked up to the automobile. "Well, Jimmy," he said, "why didn't you come home at all if you ain't going to stay a while?"

Jimmy jumped down, opened the rear door, and gave his hand to a shy young girl who stepped to the turnpike beside him.

"Why, Pop," said Jimmy mildly, "I came home to marry Emmy Thorbahn. Pop, this is my wife. We've just been married." And then in a sudden flash of confidence, Jimmy added: "You see, Pop, there ain't no girls like the Home Town girls."

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

For a moment the French millinery room at Hamble's went black before my eyes. Then the mist cleared, and I again saw the face of "Edith," the girl from Virginia, the peer-like beauty who had been beneath the blue hat I had wished to purchase.

I drew a little nearer to her as if fascinated. They were so engrossed in each other that they noticed nothing. The girl was speaking, and I felt that I must hear what she said.

"But you ought not to get this one, Dicky," she said, and her voice there was the familiarity of long intimate friendship. "I am afraid you're an awfully extravagant boy."

"Don't worry about the price," there was the trace of irritation in Dicky's voice that always appears when any one tries to limit his expenditure. "The hat just suits you; it will be perfect, and I'll have it with the blue trimmings, and it is the last word in modishness, or I'm no judge. We'll take it."

The saleswoman hovered over him, pencil in hand, and I distinctly heard Dicky give her his studio address. Then, as he took out his billbook to pay for the hat I turned and, regardless of what the saleswoman who had waited upon me might think, rushed toward the seclusion of the waiting room.

My world had fallen in ruins around me, and I felt that I must reach some place where I could face my misery. Then the thought of Mrs. Durkee made me pause. What could I say to her?

A TOLU OF TEMPERAMENT.

But the actual physical illness which was fast overwhelming me soon made me forget almost the existence of my little neighbor. I stumbled through the waiting room to the door of the room marked "Rest," and, regardless of attendant rose to meet me, exclaimed as she saw my face and then silently and helpfully guided my footsteps into an inner room and handed me over to a trained nurse. I grasped her hands wildly.

"I am Mrs. Graham," I stammered. "I am Mrs. Durkee outside."

Then I fainted dead away.

When I came to myself again I was lying on a cot, there was a strong smell of disinfectant in the air and Mrs. Durkee's frightened face was beside that of the nurse.

"Dicky!" I said feebly.

"I'll telephone for him right away," Mrs. Durkee said, but at the horror-stricken "No!" which burst from me she stopped and stared at me open-mouthed.

"Is she delirious?" I heard her ask the nurse fearfully, as I closed my eyes again, and I felt the nurse's careful, steady fingers upon my pulse.

"No," the nurse replied, "nor is she ill. I think she has had a shock of some kind. Let her rest now. She will be all right in a few minutes. But don't bother her with questions."

My gratitude to the woman for her cheerful sanity can never be measured in words. I clung to her hand and pulled her down to me.

I whispered, "and then to come back here for me. I'll try to go to sleep for a little while. But she mustn't telephone my husband until I give her permission."

I could hear Mrs. Durkee's expostulation, and her gradual yielding to the persuasion of the nurse. Then through half-closed eyes I saw her slip a bill into the nurse's hand with the injunction to get me "coffee, broth, anything she needs," and with a troubled backward look at me she went out of the room.

IS MADGE'S "DREAM" OVER?

With the sigh of relief I turned my face to the wall. The nurse bent over me again, and I spoke evenly, steadily.

"I should like to be alone for a little while, if you do not mind."

I will be within call in the next room, she answered, with a friendly understanding, and I blessed her thoughtfulness as she went out.

For I could not bear the thought of JANUARY 21.

Sunrise, 7:13; sunset, 5:10; moonrise, 10:57. Vallejo reported Prof. Porta's earthquake three days late.

One good thing about people who think they can sing is that they always hold off for a little while before they start in.

Nagy, Szende, Buza, Vasz, Szabo and Kunssy. Our sympathy goes out to the man who calls the roll in the new Hungarian cabinet.

IN 1789.

On this date in 1789 Louis XVI of France was executed.

Behind the story that the former kaiser is growing whiskers may be a bit of German propaganda to make someone believe he is a Bolshevik.

History took the "white book" down from off the German rack; History turned the pages of the old calendar's thrown in the basket.

So long as we slip under the wire in January, a New Year's rhyme should be permissible: The old calendar's thrown in the basket.

And a new one is hanging high. We've turned a page in the ledger. A year has gone blundering by.

Ah, things will be changed in this new year.

And hope is a star over bright; The wrong that has darkened the old days.

May shine in the new as the right.

So brush off the cobwebs and mildew.

A clear sky is backing the gray; No care harder can color dare to.

Forget this is optimists' day.

SEEN IN A DAY

From the Piedmont hills the lighted Red Cross shining on City Hall tower at night while a low-lying blanket of white mist shrouded the city and all other lights.

A drunken man on Telegraph avenue, declaring to passersby in a hoarse, hoarse voice that Nebraska by adding itself to the dry column and thus ratifying prohibition for the nation had deprived him of his constitutional rights, and when asked the way to come to anyway, he'd like to know, it was coming to the dogs!

Two poorly-dressed little girls on a shabby street sharing one pair of worn old roller skates, and each having a shrieking glorious time as she went on a skate.

Two half-grown white boys of indeterminate ancestry, a Japanese lad and a negro absorbed in shaking dice in the little entrance way of a vacant store on a side street near the Post-office.

Half a dozen milch cows quietly any human eye upon me as I wrestled with the awful problem which confronted me.

My dream of happiness with my husband was over. That I knew when I saw him pull out his purse to pay for the hat he had just selected for the pretty Virginia art student, whose friendship with him had vaguely troubled me for some time.

No friendship, however, could excuse the sordid thing I had just witnessed: To my irrational mind there was but one explanation for a girl's permitting a man, especially a married man, to buy her clothing, and that was an explanation that made me shudderingly cover my face with my hands and rack my body in torment.

MARRIED LIFE

Shout Your Praise of Woman

Says CLARA MORRIS

I was alone. A memory pushed up close to me and I cried out: "Oh, la, la—it is to laugh!"

Happily, the thing I laugh at is over now. All the clamor, the public screaming, the private iteration, the hysteria of that not-to-be-smothered claim of "woman's equality with man." Sneered at, laughed at as "the shrieking sisterhood," coldly condemned by more conventional persons, the sisterhood, deaf to abuse, went right on hiring halls, where they cooed, sobbed or screamed their shibboleth, "Woman is man's equal."

And the men? They settled back on their heels and with "damnable iteration"—now, that's Shakespeare, all right—made through all the years just one answer. Even if it were a little sawed-off, 4 feet 11 1/2 inches high man, speaking to a Juno, an Amazon of full 6 feet, the inevitable answer was:

"Woman can never be man's equal because she can't fight, and in case of war she would be of no use to the country."

Oh, la, la, it is to laugh now, is it not?

Yes, woman has proved herself equal to the beloved man, at last. They were and are equals in passionate devotion to the cause. Equals in willing self-sacrifice, in endurance—that neither broke nor wavered. They're even equals in courage, since women have given their lives in defense of those entrusted to their care.

Idle ones, who fox-trotted the hours away, helped to mend and clean, and furnish up old garments, and felt honored in the doing.

But the most pathetically splendid of our women are those mothers who, having last only sons "over there," have turned their faces to the wall and let the waves of agony, despair and mother-hunger pass over them for a time. And then they have lifted themselves, smoothed their faces and devoted all their strength, their care and tenderness to the service of other women's sons. I bow my forehead to the feet of such women.

Self Conscious Sisters—As Seen by Winifred Black

Here's another somebody suffering because she never can forget her self long enough to be happy.

If she goes to a party, she's worried because her dress is too long, or too short, or too pink or too faded; or she thinks maybe her hair isn't done just right, or—oh, heaven's! why didn't she get a pair of slippers like those the woman in white is wearing?

Oh, she isn't a belle—the men are nice enough to her, but they don't flock around her the way they do in stories or in the movies.

One at a time seems to be all she can have—and she can't always manage him.

FORGET YOURSELF.

Sometimes, just when she thinks she's really beginning to be fascinating, she looks up and there he is staring at somebody else, and she feels as if she could sink to the floor.

And then sometimes she laughs too loud and people look at her, or she doesn't laugh enough and they wonder about her.

And if she stays at home she's perfectly miserable, wondering why someone doesn't call up or come by and take her somewhere.

And if she meets a man on the street she doesn't know whether she ought to stop and talk with him, or nod vaguely across the street with a look of mutual understanding—that's the book of mutual understanding—whether she ought to pass him with a cool stare of indifference.

She's terribly worried about doing just exactly what she ought to do, just precisely when she ought to do it, and how is she going to know, pray tell, and who will tell her, and will I be a lamp and a guidance to her feet?

No, my dear, I will not.

I don't know a thing about you. For all I know, you may be fifty or fifteen—oh, they grow both ages, the self-conscious sisters—and you may be dark or fair, plump or slender, clever or stupid, tall or short, and I advise you what to wear and how to act, to be fascinating or even interesting.

One thing is perfectly sure, dear sister, whoever you are and however you look, you think entirely too much about yourself.

You may care tragically how your hair is combed or what the length of your dress is, but no one else on earth cares the snap of their finger about either of these desperately important affairs.

LEARN TO LIKE OTHERS.

Why should you think that the eyes of the whole world are riveted on you, and on you alone?

Who are you to play so important a part in the thoughts of every human being who walks the globe?

The man you meet in the street for instance—how may seem to be looking at you, but all the time he's probably thinking about some other girl in some very different kind of a hat—a girl who thinks about him once in a while, and not all the time about herself.

A girl who laughs when she thinks a thing is funny, and not when she thinks she ought to laugh at it; a girl whose mind is taken up with what other people are saying, and not with how she is looking.

DEADTIME STORY

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"I am going away," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady who kept the hollow stump bungalow for Uncle Wiggly Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman.

"What? Going away?" cried the bunny, and his pink nose almost stopped twinkling. "What business in the world shall I do without you?"

"Oh, don't worry. I'm not going away to stay," said Nurse Jane. "I'll only be gone three or four days. Mrs. Whiteviolet, the duck lady, asked me to come over and help her make some bed quilts to cover her little duck children. Lull, Alice and Jimmie. Do you think you can manage by yourself for a while?"

"Oh, I guess so," said Uncle Wiggly, slowly and uncertainly.

Well, there were busy times in the hollow stump bungalow that day. Uncle Wiggly went out in the woods to look for an adventure, but he couldn't find any, and when he came back Nurse Jane had on her bonnet and shawl, and was all ready to go visiting.

"You'll find lots to eat in the kitchen cupboard," she told Uncle Wiggly. "Goodbye!"

"Goodbye!" he answered. "Take care of yourself, and come back as soon as you can."

Nurse Jane said she would, and then she went out in the kitchen and pointed a finger at the ducks. "You see what there was to eat. Truly, as Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy had said, there was plenty. And as the bunny rabbit gentleman looked at it, he suddenly felt hungry.

"There is only one thing missing," he said, "and that is carrot soup. As a cold day and as I have a little chill from standing out wearing goodness to nurse Jane, I think I'll make some carrot soup."

So Mr. Longears brought up from his cellar some long golden yellow, sharp-pointed carrots to make the soup. "I guess I'll have to boil them in water with a little salt, and then I'll need a pot to put them on to boil, and as he sat, watching the bubbling pot, all of a sudden there came a knock at the door of the hollow stump bungalow.

STATE FLYERS WIN CROSSES FOR BRAVERY

The American Distinguished Service Cross and the French Croix De Guerre have been recently presented to Major Kenneth Marr of Oakland, celebrated California aviator. It was announced today by Colonel Harvey Burwell, in command of the army aviation school at San Diego, where Major Marr arrived from overseas a few days ago.

Major Carl Spatz, who also returned to the camp from overseas, is to receive the same honors, the presentations to be made with military ceremonies at Rockwell Field in February. Brigadier General Peter W. Davidson or Brigadier General Daniel W. Hand of Camp Kearny will pin the medals on the aviators, and it is probable that a review of troops will be held in honor of the occasion.

Major Marr won the Distinguished Service Cross and the French Croix De Guerre for his heroic flight over the Escadrille and later with the American Pursuit Squadron. He is credited with bringing down ten German planes. Major Spatz is to be honored for his noble work as a pursuit pilot. He is credited officially with four German planes and unofficially with more.

Major Marr was ordered back to the military aviation school several weeks ago, the orders for the presentations following him. Major Spatz is a Pennsylvania man and a West Point graduate, who has been in the service five years.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 20.—Details have been received here in the official citations of the exploits in the air against German aviators on the western front where Lieutenant Douglas Campbell, 5th Aero Squadron, son of Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton, who already has received the Distinguished Service Cross, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and four bronze oak leaves.

The decoration was bestowed by General John J. Pershing by direction of the President for extraordinary heroism in action in France. The Distinguished Service Cross was awarded for bringing down an enemy plane on May 19, 1918. On this occasion Lieutenant Campbell attacked an enemy biplane at an altitude of 10,000 meters, east of Vitry, France. He rushed to the attack, but after shooting a few rounds his gun jammed. Undeterred by this accident, he maneuvered so as to protect himself, corrected the jam in midair and returned to the assault. After a short, violent action, the enemy plane took fire and crashed to the earth.

GETS OAK LEAVES.
One bronze oak leaf was awarded to Lieutenant Campbell for each of the following acts of heroism in action. On May 27, 1918, he encountered three enemy biplanes at an altitude of 3,000 meters over Montsec, France. Despite the superior numbers of the enemy, he promptly attacked and, fighting a brilliant battle, shot down one German machine, which fell in three pieces, and captured the other two within the enemy lines.

The next day he saw six German Albatross aeroplanes flying toward him at an altitude of 3,000 meters over Bois de la. Regardless of personal danger, he immediately attacked and, by skillful maneuvering and accurate operation of his machine gun, brought one plane down in flames and drove the other five back to their own lines.

SHOT IN BATTLE.
The fourth bronze oak leaf was awarded for an engagement which occurred on June 5, 1918, over the city of Epley. Accompanied by another pilot, he attacked two enemy biplanes at an altitude of 6,000 meters. After a spirited combat, he was shot through the back by a machine-gun bullet, but in spite of his injury he continued fighting until he had forced one of the enemy planes to the ground, where it was destroyed by artillery fire, and had driven the other plane back into its own territory.

The young aviator enlisted in the United States Army as a flying cadet shortly after the outbreak of the war. LOS GATOS, Jan. 21.—Sergeant Floyd Hopping of the 363d Infantry, son of Mrs. L. Hopping of this city, has been cited for heroism, according to news reaching here from Washington today. The Los Gatos boy was commended for bravery in action as the result of sensational work in cutting a wide belt of barbed wire under fire. According to the official citation, Sergeant Hopping, when his company was held up by the wire, he bravely went forward, under heavy gunfire, and cut several lanes through the obstacles, enabling his company to push through without casualties.

Hopping was educated in the local schools and is well known in this city. He joined the army with an early contingent, and saw most of his fighting in France. The episode which won him the citation occurred September 23 of last year.

TAXPAYERS MAY FORCE STATE SAVING

BULLETIN.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—The resolution favoring the purchase of Lower California was adopted by the senate today but the dissenting vote—McDonald, San Francisco.

The measure was adopted by the assembly yesterday. The resolution protesting the cancellation of the allied debt to the United States was passed by unanimous vote of the senate.

By EDGAR T. GLEESON (International News Service Correspondent.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—Whisperers that chase one another in and out of dark corners of the capitol have it that the California Taxpayer Association is going to beat the governor's efficiency commission to it. Plans were maturing today by which Assemblyman Alexander P. Fleming of Los Angeles, chairman of the Los Angeles delegation, will lay the association report before the legislature this week. He is awaiting the arrival of Will H. Fisher, executive officer of the organization; then we shall know all about the scheme of consolidating all of the state commissions and agencies into twelve departments.

Somewhere in California subcommittee of the Boynton efficiency commission (if you know what all that means) and there is in process a report which is to determine what departments may be consolidated and what might better be left as they are.

The hint has been thrown out times innumerable that California is not going to practice efficiency at the expense of cutting down thousands of jobs which have made for the health and safety of its people. Lieutenant Governor C. C. Young has already expressed himself in

Committee Favors Investigation of Breadstuff Cost

(By Associated Press)
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—The Assembly judiciary committee today favorably reported a resolution calling for the creation of a special joint committee from the legislature to investigate the high cost of breadstuffs. The resolution was amended to empower the committee to subpoena witnesses.

The Assembly federal relations committee was to meet this afternoon. It may act upon resolutions urging government retention of the railroads, extension of the merchant marine, uniform inheritance tax and a proposed protest against the award of United States shipbuilding contracts in China.

favor of those Johnson policies by which the progressive spirit was crystallized up and down the state and privilege was made to sing its swansong.

Percy Long, member of the Boynton commission and Johnson admirer, politically, has told the press with fine gesture that it is going to be difficult to effect any great saving without impairing the efficiency of the state organizations. But efficiency is the south's middle name. It realizes the true value of efficiency because nowhere is the fact better illustrated than in the much advertised south, that in the exercise of care and in ingenuity "you can make a little bit go a long way."

The general demand has been for saving money in the matter of state expenditures. In the recent election the southern voters elected eleven representatives to the legislature, all of whom are pledged to some

ORGAN PLAYER SEEKS GREAT ESTATE HERE

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Joe L. Feldman, a little gray man of fifty-odd, whose shoulders are bent from decades of lugging a heavy hand organ, is collecting coppers, nickels and dimes today in the hope of securing money to engage lawyers to fight his claim that he owns $35,000,000 in gold mines, railroads and big buildings in California.

Feldman was arrested, charged with disturbing the peace by playing his hand-organ when city folks had retired for the night. Thus his story came to light.

According to Feldman, in 1889 he kept a general store in Warsaw. There he read in a newspaper that a man named Martin I. Horowitz had died in San Francisco, leaving $35,000,000. Feldman concluded this was a lost uncle who had gone to America years before.

Prepares Bill to Give Men State Aid

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—Assemblyman Paisley said today he was preparing a bill to make it possible for returned service men and practical farmers, who may lack funds for the necessary first payment of ten per cent, to be financed by this state.

Restaurant on Market Street, S. F., Robbed

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—A masked bandit walked into Meads restaurant at Sixth and Market streets today, ordered a meal, drew a revolver, directed several patrons to line up against the wall, rifled the cash register of $90 and, backing out of the restaurant, escaped up the street.

A bill to abolish trial by jury in police and justice courts will be introduced today by Assemblyman Lindsey of San Diego. The act proposes that the defendant shall have the right of appeal to the superior court from the decision of the lower judge. Similar laws are in effect in

Hurley Favors $5,000,000 Bonds To Store Water

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—A $5,000,000 bond issue, to be spent in construction of storage reservoirs in the mountains of California, is proposed by Assemblyman Hurley of Oakland.

"We want to provide jobs for homecoming service men," says Hurley. "How better can we do it than in construction measures that will at the same time be making the state a better place to live?"

The bond issue would provide for at least six dams each with a minimum storage capacity of 50,000 acre feet, Hurley believes. It is proposed to develop thousands of horsepower hydro-electric energy in connection with the dams and irrigation scheme. The state water commission would have charge of the work.

The necessity of large capacity storage dams in the Sierras, to guarantee adequate water for irrigation purposes in the Central California agricultural regions, during the dry summer seasons, has been the subject of study and investigation in late years. Last summer the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers were brought to an alarmingly low stage because of the immense volume of water pumped out in the farming districts.

Plan $10,000,000 for Soldier Lands Breed Introduces Bill for Farms Six Months' Extra Pay Is Urged

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—A bill passing for the submission of the people of a proposal to issue $10,000,000 bonds for use of the state land settlement board in providing farms for returned soldiers, sailors and marines, was introduced today in the Senate by Senator Breed.

It was the first measure introduced thus far to be referred to the reconstruction committee and was considered by that committee after the Senate adjourned. The committee reported the bill out with the recommendation that it be passed. It will be referred to the finance committee.

The bond proposal, if the bill is passed will be placed on the general election ballot in November, 1920, for approval or rejection by the eastern states, where court congestion has been considerably relieved.

"It insures a more speedy trial in the lower court and a trial by a more carefully selected jury if the matter goes to the higher court," says Lindsey. "It will also result in many more cases being handled in the lower courts than at present, as fewer indictable misdemeanors charges will be filed under the proposed scheme."

Lindley has another bill proposing that clerks of probate courts be allowed to make routine and perfunctory orders, thus relieving the judges of a great deal of clerical work and saving time for the courts.

Trained Attendants For Sick Room Urged In Senate Measure

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—Assemblyman Brown of El Centro has introduced a bill granting irrigation districts the privilege of county authorities to handle their clerical work.

Members of the state dental board would be ineligible for reappointment for ten years after their terms expire, under the terms of a bill offered by Assemblyman Wickham. The bill would abolish the per diem allowance of the board's secretary.

Assemblyman Eden offered bills to grant the harbor commission in Orange county additional authority in connection with a $500,000 bond issue for Newport Beach harbor improvement, and to turn over Newport Beach tide lands to the commission.

Co-operative purchases of apparatus and supplies by school districts through county superintendents of the material schools, purchasing agents would be made possible by a bill offered by Assemblyman Merriam.

BILL TO CLEAR GOVERNMENT ISLAND TITLE

The state's part of its agreement with Oakland and Alameda, through which the new government concrete shipyard was brought to Government Island, will be carried out this week, according to word from Sacramento.

Senator A. H. Breed will introduce a bill confirming the leases made for the Government Island tidelands by the two cities.

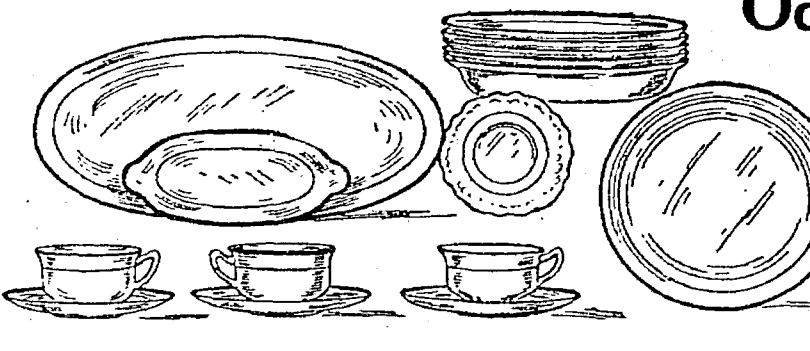

This 100 acres was an "orphan" legally. Both Oakland and Alameda claimed it, and when the shipyard project was arranged for the island, a meeting of representatives of the state and the two cities was held. Both cities agreed to sign leases for the land to the government, the state representatives agreeing that these would be confirmed by the state.

This making the title safe, government started work on the shipyards. There, vessels are now under construction.

The situation was explained to Governor William D. Stephens by the Alameda county delegation this week, preparatory to the filing of Breed's bill.

George Haney, whom Frank Tabor hopes will some day be the king welter-weight of the Pacific Coast, will get his golden chance tomorrow night at the Oakland Auditorium to box his way to the top ranks of the four-rounders. Haney is at present pretty well thought of by the fans and the boys in his class, but if he expects to become a headline attraction, he will have to take the measure of one Frank Barriean. The last couple of months the Haney boy has been stepping right up toward the top, with Steve Dalton being one of the stepping stones. Since Frank Tabor has taken him under his care, Haney has improved wonderfully in his style of fighting, and if he is able to display the same class and willingness as he did against Steve Dalton, then the fans are going to witness the best main event of action since bouts have been staged at the Auditorium.

Benny Leonard takes the decision from Johnny Dundee. Leonard, who was expected to be a big draw, was not seen at the Auditorium. Leonard, who was expected to be a big draw, was not seen at the Auditorium. Leonard, who was expected to be a big draw, was not seen at the Auditorium.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—A fight to compel Robert C. Brown to retire as a member of the championship committee of the National A. A. U. was begun here last night at a meeting of the championship committee of the Central A. A. U. A resolution demanding that Brown withdraw from the ground that he is no longer actively interested in amateur athletics, was passed and the Central A. A. U. has been matched to box Jack Britton rounds in Denver, Washington's birthday and can fulfill this engagement on his way home.

GEORGE SHADE, WHO MEETS BARRIEAN TOMORROW. George Shade, whom Frank Tabor hopes will some day be the king welter-weight of the Pacific Coast, will get his golden chance tomorrow night at the Oakland Auditorium to box his way to the top ranks of the four-rounders. Haney is at present pretty well thought of by the fans and the boys in his class, but if he expects to become a headline attraction, he will have to take the measure of one Frank Barriean. The last couple of months the Haney boy has been stepping right up toward the top, with Steve Dalton being one of the stepping stones. Since Frank Tabor has taken him under his care, Haney has improved wonderfully in his style of fighting, and if he is able to display the same class and willingness as he did against Steve Dalton, then the fans are going to witness the best main event of action since bouts have been staged at the Auditorium.

REMINISCENCES OF EDDIE (KID) PARKER. Eddie "Kid" Parker is now a staid business man in this city, but not so long ago he was one of the best known characters in the fight game here. In the palmy days of boxing he was associated with some of the best fighters, including Stanley Ketchel, Frankie Burns and others. When the bouts degenerated into four-round affairs, Parker retired from active participation in the sport and went into the hat business. But the "Kid" still liked to talk about the "good old days" and he knows what he is talking about. Parker has written a series of articles for THE TRIBUNE relating his experiences. The first appears below and the others will follow at intervals.

BULLETS FLY AS 3 BANDITS DODGE POLICE

After a running revolver battle between three bandits in a stolen motor car and two detectives in another automobile, which ranged through crowded downtown streets in San Francisco last night, the car of the bandits smashed into a string of freight cars in the Southern Pacific yards at Townsend and Eleventh streets and the men escaped.

On the lookout for hold-up men following Sunday night's encounter between Frank Peterson, Olympic club wrestler, and three whom he put to flight with an umbrella, Detectives James Gallagher and Frank Landecker started to round up three suspicious characters at Sacramento and Lyon streets.

Leaping into an automobile at the curb with engine running, the men fled, hotly pursued by the two detectives in a commandeered motor car. Along Sacramento went the chase and near Presidio avenue two of the bandits opened fire on the pursuers with revolvers. Answered in kind by the detectives, the chase swept along into the downtown district.

Down Geary street, to Fillmore, to Buchanan, to Grove, to Market and to Eleventh, went the chase. And as they drew into the more crowded thoroughfares the bandits withheld their fire. At Eleventh and Townsend came the smash of the bandits into a string of freight cars and their escape into the gloom-enshrouded yards.

The bandit trio is believed to be the same which Peterson put to rout. The weaker car was towed to police headquarters. A plate on it bore the name of Mrs. C. E. Wesley, Pennington, California. The license number, 135,551, was registered in the name of A. E. Schorr of Santa Rosa.

Mother Beats Out Fire With Her Bare Hands; Saves Babe

Suffering intense pain as the result of burns received when with her bare hands she beat out the flames that enveloped her 2-year-old baby Catherine, Mrs. Jerias M. Ranch lies wrapped in bandages at her home, 3511 Douglas street, but happy in the knowledge that she saved the baby from a fearful death. Alongside of her lies the baby, bandaged from head to foot, tortured by the cruel burns.

The child was playing in the yard with its 3-year-old brother Wilfred. A can of petroleum was spilled and Catherine's dress was saturated. A moment later the dress caught fire and the flames enveloped the child. Her terrified screams summoned the mother from upstairs. Frantically the mother fought the flames with her bare hands, folding up the dress and smothering the fire. Her own clothing was ignited and she came near to being fatally burned before she succeeded in her heroic effort to save the baby. Both mother and child were taken to the Receiving Hospital, where the burns were dressed, after which they were returned home. Both will recover.

was imposed yesterday on William Augustus, proprietor of a saloon at 452 Third street, by Police Judge Fitzpatrick for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

After his machine had crashed into a Municipal bus on the Great Highway near Fulton street, Augustus was arrested on Saturday. Jail, not fine, would be his practice in dealing with offenders, Judge Fitzpatrick announced in giving the sentence.

"For six years we have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in our family and feel we could not possibly do without it, especially for the children." (From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Mrs. Earl Cowell, Cement City, Mich.)

Children become constipated as readily as do their elders, and the result is equally distressing. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is ideal for children because of its pleasant taste, positive, yet gentle, action, and its freedom from opiates and narcotic drugs.

THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL DISEASES

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Danger is in sight.

Piped out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pain in the back, look up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and misery. Dr. Smith's Kidney Pills are driven from your system.

RAIN, SNOW PROVE AID TO WHOLE STATE

With the local rainfall raised to considerably over normal by the present storm, which the weather bureau says is not yet over and which will probably bring some more rainfall tonight and possibly tomorrow, and a generous snowfall in the Sierras, California is today rejoicing in conditions that, except for the drought, are a majority of whom are from California, Arizona, Nevada and Washington. The division won distinction during the grueling fighting at Argonne and Verdun and in the Champagne advance. It was organized and trained at Camp Lewis under Major General Greene, who later turned over the command to Major General William H. Johnston.

The Arizona regiment of the Ninety-first division acted as personal escort to President Wilson during the Paris ceremonies in his honor, and several other regimental units of the division were selected by General Pershing to accompany the King and Queen of Belgium to Brussels. These assignments were considered a mark of exceptional honor by the men of the Ninety-first.

It is said to be definitely known at the Presidio that at least a portion of the Ninety-first division will be demobilized at home, and there is a strong undercurrent of conviction that the entire division will be ordered to the big demobilization depot across the bay.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Other units of the famous 91st (Wild West) division have sailed from France and still other units have been designated to prepare for embarkation. It was announced today.

The 316th trench mortar battery of the 91st has been released to prepare for embarkation and the 345th field artillery of the same division has sailed.

All other units of the 91st are on the early convey list, and will be released as shipping is available.

The cruiser Frederick, Breast for New York, is due January 29 with groups from the 3rd division, to be demobilized at Camp Sherman.

The transport Conla, Breast for New York, is due January 24 with eastern troops.

The transport Easterner, Bordeaux for New York, is due February 4, with four casual officers.

The transport Abscon, St. Nazaire for New York, is due February 3, with an Alabama casual detachment and sixteen casual officers.

The transport Susquehanna, St. Nazaire for New York, is due February 3, with an Alabama casual detachment and sixteen casual officers.

The transport George Washington carried 3474 men.

The Italian liner Verdi from Genoa and Gibraltar, brought 656 civilian passengers and 439 sailors.

CHINESE FACING BLACKMAIL AND MURDER CHARGE

A busy Chinese New Year is forecast by reports to San Francisco police headquarters by four Chinese merchants who turned over blackmailing letters threatening them with death unless each paid $5000 at the same time, fanning the flames of the smoldering tong wars, Lee Ging of Palo Alto, member of the Sun Sui Ying tong, severe to complaints before Police Judge Oppenheimer charging seven leaders of the Hop Sen tong with murder. The accusations are said to be in retaliation for recent arrest on murder charges of Sun Sui Ying tongmen. All grew out of recent killings.

The men accused are Tom Pat Song, Won Joy Ben, Wong Mong Chung, Wong Hong Kong, Chung Chow Chow, Mock Yee Hong and Jen Jon Jow.

For a few cents you can get a quarter ounce of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati chemist.

Apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly, yes, immediately, all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it out, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It does not even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, just seem to shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.—Advertisement.

MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing, you need not be discouraged. Your druggist and get a little of Parmit (double strength) and add to it a little hot water, and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

It is a relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should be opened, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, tastes little and is pleasant to take. Any one losing hearing or hearing noises should give this prescription a trial.

91ST DIVISION MAY COME TO S.F. PRESIDIO

A report is circulating in Western Department army circles to the effect that the "Wild West" (Ninety-first), one of the famous fighting divisions of the United States overseas forces, will be demobilized at the Presidio in either March or April of this year.

The Ninety-first division is made up of western men, a majority of whom are from California, Arizona, Nevada and Washington. The division won distinction during the grueling fighting at Argonne and Verdun and in the Champagne advance. It was organized and trained at Camp Lewis under Major General Greene, who later turned over the command to Major General William H. Johnston.

MEN DISCHARGED AT OWN REQUEST

To correct the impression of those who believe that men had been discharged indiscriminately without provision made for their future, Secretary of Navy Daniels, in an announcement points out that no man has been discharged except at his own request. Under regulations men discharged at their own request before the expiration of their contract with the Government are not entitled to transportation to their homes but may be transferred to the naval station nearest their home and discharged there if they so elect. Naval reservists released are furnished transportation on home.

At some of the naval stations where men are being discharged, they are required to sign a statement that they understand the regulations governing such discharge and that they have sufficient means for the journey to their homes before they are released. Previously special instructions were issued to commanding officers and commanders to the effect that no man is to be discharged at his own request.

The Secretary of the Navy directs ships and stations to proceed immediately with releases of men authorized in former instructions.

The post graduate course continues.

plated to be held at the Naval Academy this spring has been postponed until about July 1, the change due to the duties now required of the regular naval officers. Applications previously made will be held and such officers transferred to the school at about that date.
